

8 Reasons to Use a Travel Advisor

1. They love designing itineraries.

Travel advisors chose this career path because they have a genuine passion for travel and helping others experience the world. They are dedicated to providing you with the tools—and inspiration—you need for a successful, enjoyable vacation.

2. They save you money.

Because travel advisors have special agreements with airlines, hotels, and other suppliers, they have access to the best rates (and discounts) available—rates that you cannot find online. They also enjoy certain benefits for being a part of the travel industry, and they can pass these perks on to you.

3. They are experts.

Some travel advisors have been in the industry for decades. They have the skills and knowledge to help you see the sites that are important to you and get the most out of your vacation. They know the top-rated hotels and tours and are experts at customizing your ideal trip.

4. They are your ultimate advocate.

From start to finish, travel advisors are there to ensure that your trip is extraordinary. They are committed to your happiness, comfort, and safety while on vacation, and they have your back should any issues arise while you are traveling.

5. They have incredible networking.

Since they work in the travel industry, travel advisors have specialized contacts across the globe. They can use these connections to bring you exclusive discounts, hotel upgrades, experiences, and more.

6. They will personalize your experience.

Travel advisors draw upon their knowledge, contacts, and oftentimes their own experiences to help you create an itinerary for your trip that fits your exact specifications. Whether your interests lie in history, food, sports, nature, or art and architecture, they will find the hotels and sightseeing excursions that are right for you. They will even make special requests on your behalf.

7. They save you time and stress.

Travel advisors work tirelessly to handle all the logistics of your vacation, from scouting for flight deals to arranging excursions and locating the best hotels. Booking through a travel advisor means less time spent worrying about the details and more time to get excited about the trip.

8. They provide peace of mind.

You can trust that your travel advisor is dedicated to making your vacation as seamless as possible, and that you are cared for every step of the way. They are always available for questions or assistance, and they have your best interests at heart.

Europe Express